

The 1st Paper Idea Development Workshop in JASMIN

Oct. 19th, 2019, Shizuoka University

Overview of Paper Development Workshop (PDW)

The objective of the Paper Development Workshop (PDW) is to make a research collaboration community during the JASMIN Conferences. The slogan of the PDW is “research can be fun if we would work together”. To achieve this goal, this year’s PDW will focus on sharing your research ideas and developing multiple research performance with great academic manners. As the first starting year, this year’s PDW is designed for targeting “young researchers” who are eager to make great research progress. But, there is no limitation and everybody is welcomed to join this workshop.

A Tentative Schedule

As one-day workshop, the schedule is as follows.

	Focus	Workshop Activity
Morning Session (10:00~12:20)	Create Research Ideas as a Tem	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Share your initial research ideas</li><li>• Let’s find your future research collaborators</li><li>• Team-based research ideations</li><li>• Develop multiple and potential research</li><li>• Develop specific research motivations and questions</li></ul>

Potential Participants

Basically, the Paper Development Workshop (PDW) is welcome to everybody. Yet, it is recommended for young researchers (e.g. graduate students and young academic researchers) who have high research motivations.

Requirements

Please join this workshop with a positive thought—“Research is Fun”. Also, please bring your initial research ideas (One idea for one paragraph)

Targeted Conferences

Based on this one-day workshop, we will target to submit our works to the 2020 AIS Conferences (e.g. PACIS, ICIS, AMCIS, ECIS)
